Commissioners View Equipment For Tax Office

County Commissioners, meeting Monday at the Milam Courthouse, discussed purchase of a posting machine for the Tax Assessor - Collector's office, installation of a sprinkler system for the courthouse lawn and a call for bids for county insurance.

Commissioners discussed buying an auxiliary posting machine for the tax office pending a report from County Judge O. B. Harden, County Auditor John Andres and Tax Assessor Valter White. Commissioners also authorized Andres to call for bids for a water sprinkler system, budgeted at $3,000 in the new county budget, and for workmens compensation, general and auto liability insurance for the county.

In other business Commissioners:

Approved a recommendation from the Texas Extension Service to appoint Miss Vivian Ruth Pittman of Victoria (formerly of Cameron), as Associate County Home Demonstration Agent effective December 1.

Approved relocation of the county road by Industrial Generating Co. from a point in the Pleasant Hill Road to the Alcoa Road, a distance of about 2 miles, and also to erect a stop sign on the road.

Approved November 25 and 26 as a Thanksgiving holiday for county employees.

Approved an order allowing Stanley H. Rosenthal of Bay City to install a 4 inch natural gas pipeline across county roadways. The line will be used to transport natural gas or other hydrocarbons from the Burmil Field Area of Milam County to the Lone Star Gas Company facility at Rockdale.

Approved a resolution commending Dr. C. G. Swift and the Milam County Health Unit for efforts to immunize residents against diphtheria. (see separate story).

Loan Approved For Gause Water

A $28,100 loan to the Gause Water Supply Corporation has been approved, according to an announcement from Cong. W. R. Poage's Washington office.

The loan is for extension of the Gause water system and will provide facilities to serve 30 additional families.

County Hunters Await Deer Season Opening

Deer season opens Saturday and prospects in the county look pretty good considering the summer drought conditions. That's the word from Dale Moore, Milam County game management officer.

Limit again this year is two bucks.

Moore reminded landowners that they must have a shooting preserve license if they lease land for hunting purposes. He said checks would be made on these licenses. Fee is $5 and the license may be obtained from Moore.

He estimated that at least 20,000 acres have been leased for deer hunting this year, mostly in the southeast part of the county in the Hanover, Gause, and Milano areas.

"As usual, Milam County hunters go somewhere else to hunt, and hunters from other areas, like Houston, come to Milam County," Moore said.

From 100 to 200 bucks were taken in last year's deer season, he added.

Deer leasings have increased over the last few years in the county. The records kept by landowners will help game management officers to keep up with increases or decreases in the deer population, Moore said.

Yoe, Round Rock To Clash In Season Closer

By Marilyn Hauk

The Yoemen close out the 1971 season tomorrow night in competition with the Round Rock Dragons.

Physical condition for this last game is much in favor of the Yoemen with no major injuries.

The Dragons are a fast team with an excellent passer and receivers to match. Their district record is 2-2 beating Georgetown in their last game.

Last week Virgil Jones led in rushing with 52 yards in 11 carries. Sam Knight gained 28 yards in 11 carries. Stanley Rosemund in 5 carries gained 21 yards. William Whiteside gained 8 yards in 2 carries. Richard Cummings gained 1 yard in 4 carries.

In passing Cummings made 1 completion for 12 yards. Will Turner gained 15 yards in 2 completions with one interception.

Jimmy Bailey made 2 receptions for 20 yards. Cummings made 1 reception for 7 yards.

Jackie Chubb punted 5 times for an average of 32.5.

Some clear, cold weather would boost prospects for the season opening, Moore said. He added that last year gusty winds during the season hampered hunting.

Shooting hours are from sunup to sunset and hunters are cautioned to be sure of their target before opening fire.

QUAIL SEASON

The quail season will open later this year than last year. December 1 has been set by Parks and Wildlife Department for the opening.

The season was delayed to give the birds a chance for more growth following the dry summer conditions. Quail season will end February 15.

Highway Officials OK Gause Road

The Texas Highway Commission today approved development of 3.9 miles of Farm to Market Roads in Milam County as part of the 1971 Texas Farm to Market Road Program.

District Engineer Joe G. Hanover of the Texas Highway Department said the estimated cost of the work is $159,800.00.

The approximate location of the project to take place in Milam County is from US 79 at Gause, northwest, for an approximate length of 3.9 miles. The proposed character of the work is to provide relocation assistance and to construct grade, structures, and surface.

The work will be under the supervision of D. A. Kitrell, Senior Resident Engineer, Hearne.

New Homes Boost Building Permits

Building permits in Cameron for the five - month period from June through October totaled $152,723, according to records at City Hall.

New construction totaled $128,573, with repairs, enlargements, and alterations adding $24,150.

In new construction, largest permit was to Central Freight Co., for building of a $30,000 warehouse and loading ramp.

Permits were issued for six new homes for a total of $94,748.

This brings the year's total of building permits to $328,823.

Agency Views UR Expansion

In a regular meeting Monday night, Cameron Urban Renewal Agency directors viewed the possibility of extending the city's present urban renewal program or starting a new program for the junior high school area.

A. W. McCullin, UR executive director, said officials at the urban renewal meetings he attended in Tulsa and Lubbock recommended that local agencies review the overall situations in their towns with the possibility of extending programs or starting new ones.

The local agency will begin studies and collect information for presentation to the city council in the near future, McCullin said.

The agency is in the process of reviewing applications for rehabilitation loans since funds for the loans are now available, McCullin said.

Reporting on downtown progress, McCullin said the old Auditorium Hotel has been gutted, and workmen will start taking down brick soon.

Green Furniture Co. is moving stock to its new location on Fourth Street. The old furniture building is scheduled for removal.

Renovation will start in the old Burkes dime store building, which will house the Holder Tax Service office with room for other businesses.

Other remodeling is going on in the Culpepper buildings and Duke and Ayres will remodel four buildings to house its variety store. Dukes will move to the Leader location while remodeling is going on.

The agency is also working with utility companies on relocation of utility lines in the urban renewal area.

Rain Needed For Stock Tanks, Small Grain Crop

Despite late summer rains that put county pastures in fair shape, some good rainfall is needed to fill drying stock tanks but no rain is in the immediate weather forecasts.

About the only part of the county receiving what might be called heavy rainfall was the northwest portion, in the Buckholts area. County Agent Bill McCutcheon said dryest part of the county is the Gause - Milano area.

The agent said rain is needed to fill tanks and for small grain crops, which had enough moisture to come up. "Native pastures are slowing up growth, which is normal for this time of year when the weather gets cooler," he said.

He added that the summer rainfall soaked in and there was very little runoff into tanks.

Torrential rains that fell in the Temple-Belton area missed Milam County in October. The city rain gauge measured 1.27 for the month.

Commissioners Cite Health Unit Efforts

Milam County Commissioners unanimously approved a resolution citing Dr. Clifford Swift, nurses, secretaries and volunteers at the County Health Unit for their efforts to immunize county residents following the report of two cases of diphtheria recently.

Commissioner LaVert McKinney, who submitted the resolution, said quick work on the part of the Health Unit probably averted what could have been a serious health problem.

The crises in Cameron started when a 9 year old boy died October 19 of suspected diphtheria. Later the boy's brother was stricken and state health officials confirmed that both cases were diphtheria. An emergency immunization clinic was set up by the county health unit and throat cultures were taken in the local schools. Seven diphtheria carriers were found.

Dr. Swift said this week that well over 5,000 immunizations were given at the health unit in Cameron and in a special clinic at Rockdale. He said also that all of the known diphtheria carriers had been treated and now had negative throat cultures. "Quarantines have been lifted for these children and they are ready to return to school," Dr. Swift said.

The resolution from Commissioners COURT stated:

"WHEREAS the Commissioners Court of Milam County long has been concerned with the health and welfare of its residents, being one of the first to have a county health unit in the state to render service to the people in need;

Short Pecan Crop Means No Show

No pecan show will be held in Milam County this year. This word comes from Anton Anderle, chairman of the Milam County Horticulture Committee.

The decision not to have the show this year resulted from a recent survey of pecan producers. The pecan crop is unusually short in Milam County this year as a result of a late freeze.

Anderle noted that some trees in the towns and upland areas had fair crops while most of the bottom lands were void of pecans this year.

How Much Crime Pays...

One look at the arsenal of weapons Cameron police have taken from a variety of felons, thugs and rowdies ends any question about what local officers do some evenings.

Chief Felipe Martinez displays everything from scissors to a home-made 22 pistol in the collection. People here might think this is only for the cities, like drugs are only for the cities.

Martinez also discussed local drug problems with a women's group the past week. And the dimension of law enforcement grows.

There may have been enough "men" in the wilder days of Cameron who could handle the cutlery of such adversaries, but few today. That is Martinez and his force's job.

Who would want the experience of gathering that collection. If "crime does not pay" the felon, we do not pay enough to men who protect us from wielders of such weapons.

After The 'Shot'...

It is one of those decisions that accrue confidence for a system of checks and balances.

We refer to the Supreme Court's split decision, 4-3, to approve the underground nuclear blast at Amchitka last Saturday.

Ecologists, Canadians and 35 U. S. senators were among those opposed to detonation of the largest underground blast in American nuclear history. Fear of tidal wave, radiation and other environmental destruction brought the protest against the blast on the remote Aleutian island.

President Nixon referred the protest to the Supreme Court, which heard an hour-long presentation questioning even the legality of the test.

Scientists said no ill effects would occur.

The Supreme Court voted 4-3 to accept the government's case, in effect endorsing Atomic Energy Commission assurances the blast would be clean, though the largest ever.

Following the titanic underground blast--measuring 7 on the Richter Scale, equal to a major earthquake--"ground zero" inspection showed no radiation in the atmosphere "whatsoever".

The Administration was supporting the blast for "national security" reasons, but passed the protests to the judgment of the Supreme Court.

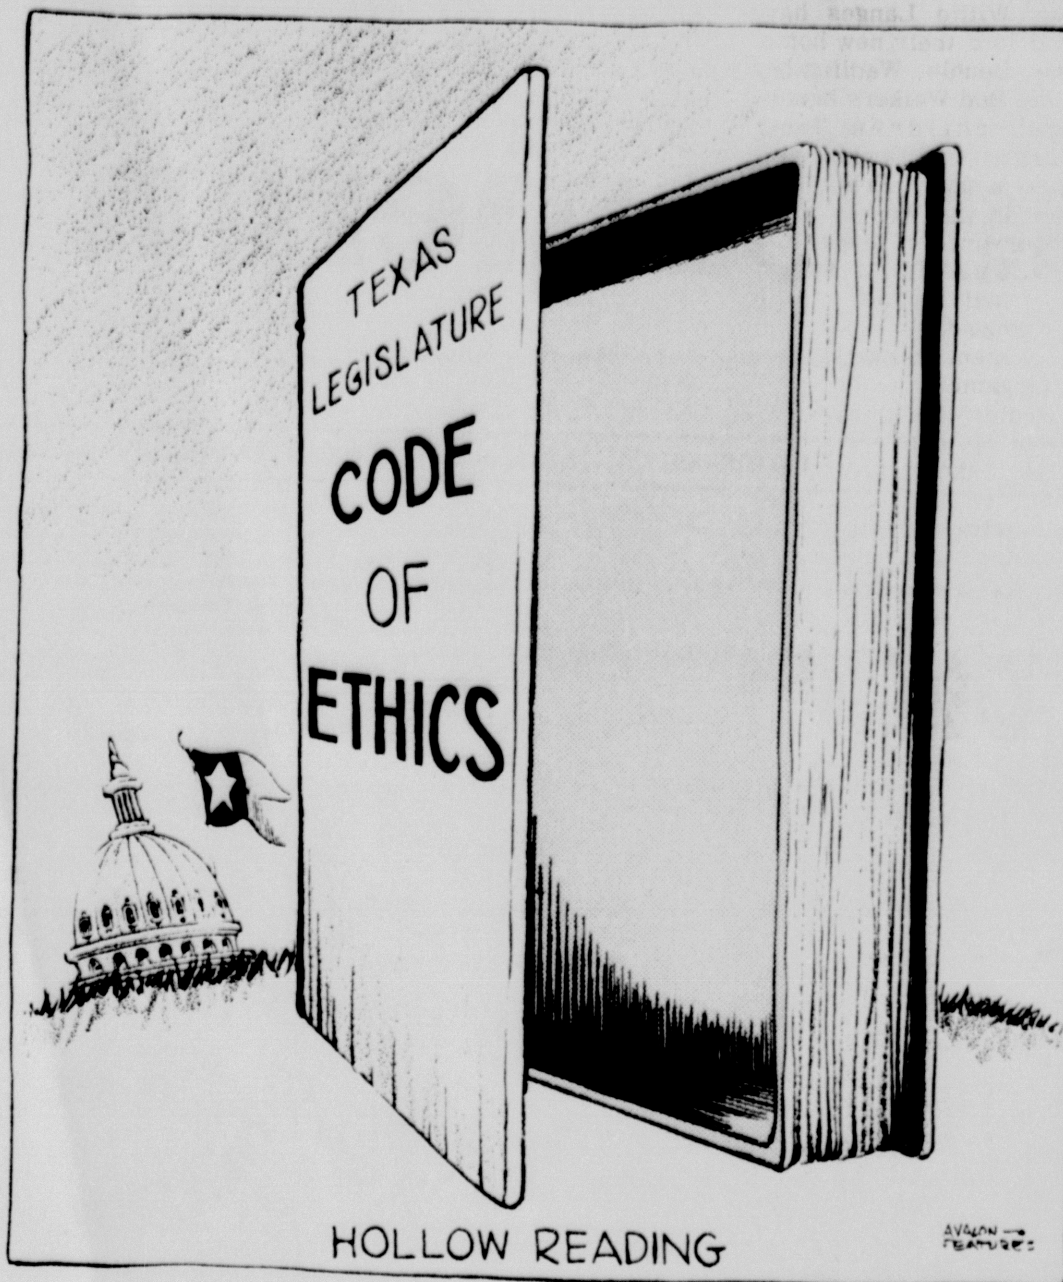

By hearing the opposition and deciding against it, the Court weighed the balance and read it accurately.

By so doing, a skittish UN newly accepting Red China, Mainland China itself and Russia, busy these past months digging mammoth silos in existing rocket complexes, all took notice that the U. S. still had a balance of power it was testing with caution and open questioning, but testing.

The decision showed that American science is as responsible as incensed environmentalists sometime say it is not. And reasonable men in high places could, though by a margin of one vote, evaluate the information for a decision proven by results.

It might have gone the other way. A miscalculation could have held disastrous results for that part of the world. But the AEC, chairman James R. Schlesinger taking his 9-year-old daughter on an on-site inspection, was confident.

The open system proved successful. It may appear abroad to be an endorsement of "sabre rattling", but if that bomb had not burst underground, considerable uncertainty would reverberate today over whether science, the redrawn UN, indeed American status in a changing world, had not changed without this "shot" being fired.

Commission Recommends State Constitution Revision

By Bill Boykin

AUSTIN — A blue-ribbon study commission has come out strong for state constitutional revision and widespread restructuring of the state and local governmental system.

The Texas Urban Development Commission, winding up an 18-month study which enlisted the services of experts and laymen, handed its 200-page report to Gov. Preston Smith.

Smith, commending the body for charting "a clear course for those in government to act on," announced appointment of a 17-member permanent Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The latter will follow up on the report of the study group headed by Arlington Mayor Tom J. Vandergriff as chairman and Dr. Earl M. Lewis of Trinity University in San Antonio.

"The Texas Constitution," said the Commission, "should be thoroughly changed to allow state and local governments to exercise more initiative and to be more responsive to current and future demands but at the same time free to be truly responsive to changing needs and emerging problems."

Among 50 major recommendations were the following:

- State government should begin moving toward a new organizational and management system and consolidation of urban services in about 20 existing agencies.
- The governor should have more power over budgeting and appointments and removal of state agency governing boards chairmen.
- Local governments should be reorganized to meet specific local needs and granted greater fiscal authority through additional revenue sources and property tax overhaul.
- Growth of special purpose districts must be checked.
- Urban growth planning programs and coordinated land planning should be launched at all levels of government.

BONDS SOLD

Continuation of the veterans land program was assured by sale of $20.8 million in bonds.

The low bid of 4.48943 per cent effective net interest was submitted by a group of 50 investors. The constitutional ceiling on interest rates is 4.5 per cent for the program.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the sale means the program can operate until almost the end of 1972 when Texas voters will have a chance to pass a constitutional amendment to raise the interest rate ceiling to six per cent.

The Veterans Land Board is constitutionally authorized to sell another $70.7 million in bonds. More than 43,500 Texans have bought land under the program.

A NEW GOVERNOR

Texas will have a new governor briefly in December -- when Sen. W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland takes over as chief executive for the day.

Snelson, as president pro tempore of the Senate, is third in line for the governorship. Governor Smith and Lieutenant Governor Barnes will absent themselves from the state December 4 so Snelson can have the honor of serving as governor. He represents 35 counties of the 25th senatorial district.

COURTS SPEAK

The State Court of Criminal Appeals upheld Texas' abortion law, and said the state has the right to prohibit operations, in a decision conflicting with a June 18, 1970, three-judge federal court ruling at Dallas.

The Court of Criminal Appeals also reversed a Waco marijuana conviction due to improper questioning of witnesses by the prosecuting attorney.

State Supreme Court heard arguments in a suit seeking to nullify University of Texas' acquisition of a 588-acre Odessa site for the new UT-Permian Basin campus because of the proximity of oil and gas equipment and a potential safety hazard.

AG OPINIONS

The governor can commute death sentences to life imprisonment even though convictions are on appeal, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

- A new "surtax" on misdemeanor and felony convictions ($2.50 to $10) cannot be assessed for offenses committed prior to last August 30, date the law went into effect.
- Issue of tax cancellation certificates are authorized, and should cover all tax certificates showing no taxes due which had been previously and lawfully issued.
- Computation of actual interest expense incurred and to be recovered as an item of selling price on long term federal water contracts shall be made by applying the cumulative average effective rate to only that portion of the "direct cost" of the facility which is attributable to Texas Water Development Fund money.

PESTICIDE DECISION

The new State Pesticide Advisory Committee delayed its decision on banning DDT for household uses.

No recommendation was made because the Environmental Protection Agency has not made its official rulings on DDT, committee chairman Dr. Perry Adkisson of Texas A&M University said.

The five-member committee will meet again December 7 to consider the matter. Texas Department of Agriculture, charged with administering the state law on pesticides, asked advice from the advisory panel authorized by the Legislature this year.

INVITE "DISAPPEARS"

State legislators and officials who had been invited to hunt on state game management areas found the invitations suddenly withdrawn after newspapers publicized them.

Parks and Wildlife Department Executive Director James U. Cross issued the invitations, although other would-be deer hunters are required to draw for the limited number of free permits in the areas. PW Commissioners expressed doubt special exceptions could be made for state officials and legislators, so the bid was unceremoniously taken back. One commissioner called for Cross's resignation over the incident, but the new director said he plans to stay on the job.

POOL MEET SLATED

Complaints about the new Texas catastrophe pool insurance plan will be aired at a public hearing here December 7.

The State Board of Insurance announced it will "consider all aspects" of the plan approved by the Legislature for 14 seacoast counties this year.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

The trouble with reading newspapers is that every once in a while when you're not thinking much about anything something you read a few days before pops into your mind and makes you wonder if you read it right.

For example, I remember reading the other day that a movie actress announced she is now a vegetarian, won't eat any meat. "I want to be able to look a cow in the eye from now on," she said.

It just occurred to me, hope she wasn't looking down at her feet when she said this, if she was wearing leather shoes.

A public opinion survey has revealed that the voting records of 10 Congressional leaders of both parties have not reflected their home folks' views on some of the major issues of the day. The voters sided one way, the leaders the other.

No wonder. Congressmen can't hear from the forks of the creek any more. The Army Engineers have covered it up with a dam.

I wasn't disturbed when Red China got a seat in the U.N. It's sort of like getting a seat in the stadium on Sunday when the game was played on Saturday. By the way, how much of the cost of operating the U.N. is China going to pay? Looks like nobody thought to ask the question.

Scientists are working on a satellite that'll circle the earth taking photographs that'll tell a farmer when he needs a rain. The more I think about this the less I know where I am.

When a New York Times reporter visited Chou En-Lai in China, the two ate a meal lasting two and a half hours with the menu including three soup courses, duck, chicken, fish, pork, shrimp, and quail's eggs stuffed with caviar. And moreover, when the Shah of Iran threw his silk tent party out in the desert for notables from all over the world, the main dish was "roast peacock served in its own brilliant plumage."

Stuffed quail's eggs on a Communist's table? Roast peacock with its feathers still on for royalty?

Pass me some of that cornbread.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I was disturbed greatly to hear about the explosion of one From what I have heard he was dismissed from school because his hair was long and that he had refused to have it cut to school standards. I do realize this standard was set by the school board of the Cameron school district, but are all decisions a true show of justice?

The school board cannot expect to hold the vast change in the younger generations morals, and traditions, no more than they can still the hands of moving time. The younger generations are changing the tradition of men wearing their hair short If the board chooses to enslave the young people in the old morals and traditions by lack of insight then would they accuse their fore-fathers of lack of insight by allowing traditions and morals to change to what they now inherit as their own morals and traditions do they consider the welfare of the students emotions, possible loss of respect for the judgement of elders, lack of desire for further education under such unnecessary pressures.

When the council rejects these long haired students they should wonder if they had prevented the development of skilled surgical hands, the minds dedicated to preservation of human life.

If the board supports their school in providing a way for its young people to obtain valuable knowledge let these long haired male students obtain that knowledge walk away from these schools with a high school degree, a self feeling of accomplishments and a new insight to social obligations, in fulfilling their true desires of occupations and professions, whereby society as a whole may also benefit.

County Agent's Notes

Aggies Flying High... Badgers To 2-0

By Bill McCutchen

Forrest Green of Buckholts and I attended a Blackland Income Growth (B.I.G.) committee meeting in Waco November 1st. The meeting was to make plans for the annual meeting in early 1972.

The B.I.G. Committee encompasses the 35 county blackland area which includes Milam County and was organized to promote agricultural growth in the area.

Other Milam County agricultural leaders involved in BIG area activities include John A. Smith, Frank Kratochvil, and Gene Klein.

GREENHOUSES

I visited Forrest Green's greenhouses recently in the Buckholts Community and was quite impressed with what I saw. This young man is doing an outstanding job with greenhouse tomatoes and this year he is also growing Chrysanthemums. This is Forrest's first year for Chrysanthemums and the plants are exceptionally beautiful and healthy.

I have a healthy respect for someone who can make a greenhouse operation work, as problems are greatly magnified under greenhouse conditions.

CHANNEL CATS

The channel catfish business is also booming in the Buckholts community. Joe Glaser said that they had an excellent hatch of fingerling catfish this year, and they have been quite busy delivering fish over the area.

They are also selling fish at the farm, and many Milam County residents and others are taking advantage of this opportunity to stock their ponds.

DISTRICT AGENT

As of October 1st, Milam County was transferred to Extension District 10 from District 8, and has been without a District Agent for this period.

As of December 1st, Brian W. Swain will become District Agricultural Agent for District 10. Swain is a native of Bell County. He has served as Asst. County Agent in Haskell and Falls Counties and as County Agricultural Agent in Stephens, Wheeler, Kleberg - Kennedy and Moore Counties. He has also served as an area resource development specialist.

Having served as County Agricultural Agent for nearly 21 years he is well qualified to direct Extension activities in District 10.

Livestock Dealer Charged With Violating P&S Act

WASHINGTON

Tommy J. Hines, a livestock dealer, of Tyler, has been charged with violating payment and recordkeeping requirements under the Packers and Stockyards Act, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said today.

He purchases livestock throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The administrative complaint was filed by USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration (P&SA).

Filing of a complaint does not prove that Hines has violated the P&S Act. He has a right to a hearing to determine if the evidence supports the charges.

P&SA alleges that Tommy J. Hines:

(1) Issued insufficient funds checks in payment for over $149,000 worth of livestock, from January through July, 1971;

(2) Failed to pay, when due, the full purchase price for such livestock; and

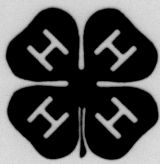

(3) Failed to keep complete accounts and records which correctly disclosed all transactions involved in his dealer business under the Act, from January through July, 1971.

If the charges are proven, Hines would be prohibited from such practices. His registration may also be temporarily suspended.

TEXAS FOOD AND FIBER Abundance Week proclamation is signed by County Judge O. B. Harden, chairman of the committee for the Week. At left is Mrs. Wavy Charles, chairman of the Milam County Family Living Committee; next, Mrs. Hardy Young, chairman of the Milam County HD Council; Max McClaren, chairman of the county Program Building Committee; and W. S. Turner, member of the executive committee of the county Program Building Committee. The special week will be observed in Texas November 15, 21.

4-H Activities

By Danny Phillips

If you and your parents don't always see things eye-to-eye, you missed a treat Monday night when Mrs. Bob Foster presented a program to the Cameron 4-H Club on how to get along with your parents.

In today's mod world, it's sometimes easy for children and parents to get out of tune with each other. Schedules, school, friends, and money are just a few things that may cause conflicts between adults and youth.

Mrs. Foster pointed out these problems and some of their solutions are being studied in her "Family Life Class 2" at Yoe High School. Youth are given the opportunity to express how they feel about problems and the class discusses possible answers.

Thirty 4-H'ers and adults attended the meeting. Clyde Jistel is serving as president this year.

ROCKDALE PROJECTS

Several project visits were made this week in the county to talk to 4-H'ers and view their projects. We have several new members with good projects this year. I visited in Rockdale Wednesday afternoon with Beverly Burney.

Beverly is a relatively new 4-H'er in the Rockdale Club and is carrying out her first beef project. The project is a Shorthorn heifer that she purchased at Caldwell and she will be showing at some of the Spring shows. Beverly shows a lot of enthusiasm about her project, something 4-H leaders like to see.

Mark Clark will be participating in the Houston Livestock Show Beef Scramble on February 25 in Houston. Mark is also a Rockdale 4-H'er who has concentrated his efforts on showing Brangus cattle.

Winners in the Houston Scramble are awarded a $200 certificate that is used to purchase a beef project for the coming year. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Clark.

ADULT LEADERS MEET

Marshall Crouch, State 4-H and Youth Specialist was in the county November 2, and spoke to a group of adult leaders at the Senior Citizens Center in Cameron. Crouch spoke to the gathering on the "Role of the Adult Leader."

"The adult advisors make up an important segment of the 4-H team", Crouch said. "Without their guidance and encouragement, many 4-H endeavors are doomed." Crouch reviewed a recent adult leaders guide that offers answers and guide lines for both new and old leaders to follow.

A limited number of these guides are available at the office.

Travel Cost For Food

For every dollar spent on food, 6 cents goes for transporting the 392 million tons of products. This necessitates 200,000 miles of railroads, 1.9 million rail cars, 16.8 million trucks, 3.3 million miles of interstate highways and 26,000 miles of improved waterways.

Poage Sees Better Grasses Developed For Rangelands

TEMPLE

Development of better rangeland grasses and adoption of better range management practices were foreseen today by Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., of the U. S. House Agriculture Committee, as a boon for the nation's livestock industry.

Speaking at ceremonies dedicating the Department of Agriculture's new Forage Grasslands Research Center here, the Central Texas Congressman said scientists at the Center will seek to develop new species of grasses especially adaptable to the Southwestern United States.

He noted also that studies would be carried on at the Center to develop more practical methods of eradicating mesquite and other unwanted plants which consume vast quantities of water and kill off desired vegetation.

"This Center will certainly justify its existence if it can but come up with a reasonably effective method of brush control at a reasonable cost," he added. "There is a whole field of activity here. Poisonous and noxious weeds as well as brush need control."

NEW GRASSES

Stressing the importance of grasslands in the Southwest, Poage observed that Sudan has proved a valuable imported grass and said there has been some success with Buffel grass and Blue Panic. He said Coastal Bermuda had been developed at the Experiment Station in Tifton, Georgia, and that it had helped a lot of cattlemen from Temple eastward make money.

"It is not a perfect grass but it has certainly helped," he continued. "This nation must do more research with grass and must develop new species to fit the needs of other areas just as Coastal fits, at least certain needs, in the Southeast."

"We need to know much more than we do about the effective use of native forbs. The buffalo followed the green grass over long distances. Under modern pasture conditions our cattle cannot do that. We know that most livestock people are over-grazing their range on a year-round basis, but we are letting lots of forage go to waste on a seasonal basis."

Turning to a discussion of range management practices, Congressman Poage declared that rotation of pastures has its place in livestock agriculture, but that no one formula would fit all operators. He said there must be widespread studies with a correlation of results in a central institution. Then he spoke of water supplies.

WATER SUPPLIES

"And we need to know lots more about the effect of both the location and the quality of the water," he said.

"As a practical matter, livestock people must rely upon fencing to make their rotations practical and to supply water in each pasture. The cost of fencing has increased almost like the cost of hospitalization. This Research Center should be able to give us better ideas as to how we can provide effective and economical fencing."

Still another matter of study and research for the new Center, said Congressman Poage, would be a search for ways to get the most use out of a hay crop. He noted that almost every farm in Texas could grow a great deal more forage if there was a practical and an economical way to save it.

Proclamation

Whereas, the agricultural economy of Texas and Milam County has undergone major changes in the past decade.

Whereas, Texas Agricultural Producers should be given special notice for the abundance of food and fiber that they produce.

Whereas, Texas is the leading state in the production of grain sorghum, beef cattle, sheep, goats, cotton, wool and mohair.

Whereas, each producer supplies himself and 46 others with food and fiber needs.

And whereas, Milam County is dependent on agricultural production for its livelihood, and makes a considerable contribution to the state food and fiber production.

I hereby proclaim that Milam County will support and observe Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Week, November 15 - 21, 1971.

Signed,
Honorable
O. B. Harden
Milam County Judge

Farm News

TEXAS' FARM ECONOMY

The upcoming Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Week, November 15-21, will be a good time to reflect on the agricultural economy of the state, says Charles Baker, Extension agricultural economist. Producers are battling the cost-price squeeze as production costs continue to skyrocket. Farm debts, the needs for farm credit, and farm and ranch assets have increased sharply in recent years.

COMPOSTING

Rather than burning leaves this fall and polluting the air, use them for a compost pile, suggests Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist. This will provide a good source of organic matter for potted plants, for top-dressing the lawn, and for building up the soil in flower beds and shrub borders. To make a compost pile, alternate layers of vegetable matter and garden soil. Each layer of vegetable matter should be watered thoroughly and sprinkled with a commercial fertilizer.

the electric dryer... where wrinkles go to relax

Wrinkles get away from it all here—away from the clothesline where sun and wind make them hard to get along with. In a modern, electric dryer they loosen up and take it easy.

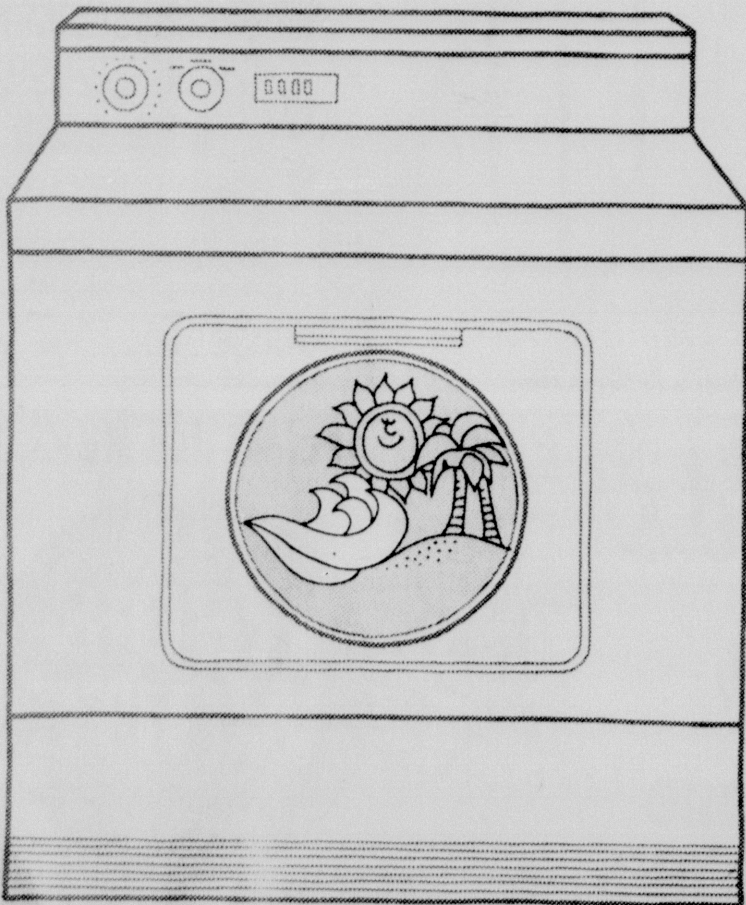

Why not drop your wrinkles off here? An electric dryer softly fluffs up and smooths out all your permanent press and double knit fabrics. It pampers your most delicate things, too, because electricity is so gentle. And when you have an electric dryer, washday never gets rained out. You do all your drying indoors, so the weather isn't a problem.

TP&L suggests you talk with your electric appliance dealer about putting a new, modern electric dryer in your home. And when you do, ask him about the many other ways you can make your life better, electrically.

Anti-Dust Tower Tried In France

By Anthony Winning
Reuter Correspondent

PARIS — Parisians may breathe more easily if a new machine that aims to clear the air of dust is successfully introduced to the city.

The machine is the "anti-dust tower," an impressive but essentially simple device now being tested in a grimy part of the French capital. Many experts believe that dust is the most dangerous polluting agent in the atmosphere.

The metal tower, which is 18 feet high, sucks in air at its base, passes it through a series of filters, and then expels it at the top. In theory, the air has been cleansed of dust by the filters.

Two prototype "giant vacuum cleaners," as the French are calling them have been installed on the pavement near busy street junctions in the district around the Gare de Lyon railroad station.

The towers have been developed for the Paris city council by Bertin and Co., a French research and development group, with the financial and technical backing of the state electricity company.

The company is also responsible for the aerotrain, a 186 mile per hour experimental train designed to travel on a cushion of air.

"There is a serious pollution problem in Paris," a city council spokesman said. "Whether it is worse here than in other cities, I would not know, but it is serious."

He said the two anti-dust towers, which run silently on electricity, would be tested for several months and the result then analysed.

If successful, the city authorities could order further tests, the spokesman added cautiously. If they were finally satisfied that the machines were have an effect, an order could be placed for several thousand towers, to be dotted around the capital's streets.

A spokesman for Bertin was more specific. He considered that if the machines worked, Paris could well order between 5,000 and 10,000 of them.

"Dust is the principal problem of urban pollution," the Bertin spokesman said. "It is more important than exhaust gases for example because it stays in suspension in the atmosphere and is not blown away by the wind so easily."

The towers do not deal with exhaust gases. They do clear urban dust that contains such pollutants as dangerous unburnt particles from automobiles engines, the residue from rubber tires and dust from the erosion of buildings.

City council experts expect each tower to pick up some 66 pounds of dust a year. The developers think this estimate tends to be conservative.

As yet, both the city authorities and the developers seem reluctant to estimate how much the towers may cost. The company spokesman said figures were not yet available, since the two machines now in operation were only prototypes.

He believed the cost would be reasonable if the machines were ordered in quantity, bearing in mind their essential simplicity. Basically, they consisted of a metal tube, an electric motor, a fan and some sound-proofing.

Bertin and Co. have been working on the development of the towers for more than five years.

Bertin's experts are confident that when the tower is fully developed, the production model will be slimmer and less cumbersome than the present prototypes, which are about five feet in diameter.

The two experimental machines have boxes of electronic equipment beside them to monitor their efficiency. Analysis of their filters will show what sort of polluting agents they are trapping.

Bertin technicians think they have a world first with their anti-dust tower.

Say Cheese For Bargain Food Value

COLLEGE STATION
--Say "cheese," if you're looking for a bargain package of concentrated food value, reminds Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Cheese is an economical source of protein, vitamins and minerals. More than just a sandwich filler, it is nutritionally equal to meat, poultry and fish as a food to help children grow, to keep adults working at top speeds and to keep everyone feeling fit, Mrs. Clyatt adds.

By itself, cheese is a gold mine of flavor. Or, use it as a flavor flatterer for dozens of other foods. Add it to almost anything cookable and you have a delectable dish. Try to imagine macaroni without cheese, or Italian spaghetti, grilled sandwiches, fondues, and souffles. Cheese is almost their reason for being, the specialist says.

With cheese, there's practically no waste. Half a pound served in a main dish provides sufficient protein for four people at that particular meal. And, what other food can be such a treat, even after it becomes a dry old scrap pushed to the back of the refrigerator? When it becomes hardened, grate cheese and use it to add to casseroles, top open-faced sandwiches or flavor other baked products.

ENGAGED - Mr. and Mrs. Vance B. McDonald of Cameron, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra to Mr. Bruce Allen Coldiron, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Coldiron of Milano. Both are graduates of Milano High School. The bride-groom elect is now attending TSI at Waco, majoring in Civil Engineering. The wedding will take place December 18 in the First Baptist Church, Cameron.

Church Ceremony Unites Couple

Miss JoAnn Schroeder and Michael Timothy Schoppe were married Saturday, October 9, in a double ring ceremony at Frenstat Holy Rosary Catholic Church of Frenstat.

Leading the wedding procession into the church were Father Pete McCabe of Cameron, who conducted the ceremony and mass servers, Robert and George Schoppe of Cameron, brothers of the groom. They were followed by Miss Lisa Ann Nash of Bryan, flower girl and Anthony Wayne Schroeder of Bryan, ring bearer; Miss Margaret Ann Polansky of Caldwell, maid of honor and the groom's brother and best man, Alfonse L. Schoppe of Cameron.

Next came bridesmaids and groomsmen: Miss Bernadette Schoppe of Cameron, Mark Nash of Bryan; Miss Kathy Schoppe of Cameron, sister of the groom, and John Posival of Cameron; Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Schoppe of Temple, brother and sister-in-law of the groom; Mrs. Mildred Nash of Bryan, sister of the bride, and Milton Schroeder, Sr. of Bryan, brother of the bride.

Following in the procession were the groom, escorted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Schoppe of Cameron, and the bride and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Schroeder of Caldwell.

The bride's gown, made by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Milton Schroeder of Bryan, and her mother, was a floor-length white alencon lace over white satin. It was designed with an empire waistline, a high neckline and long sleeves edged with double lace ruffles. Lace medallions centered with satin starlets trimmed in tiny seed pearls adorned the front of the dress. A detachable lace train lined with satin was attached to the back of the waistline centered with a bow falling to the floor. Her only jewelry was a silver cross necklace, a gift from the groom.

The crown she wore was made of seed pearls and rhinestones with a teardrop which held the floorlength veil edged in lace. Her bouquet was of yellow and white carnations centered with a yellow throated orchid. Streamers of white ribbons and pearl beads fell from the bouquet. Entwined in the streamers, the bride carried a blue-gold trimmed rosary.

The flower girl was dressed in a white floor-length dress similar to the bride. She carried a basket of yellow and white roses and her headpiece was made of white lace and a white satin starlet edged with pearls.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were dressed in floor-length yellow brocade styled identical to the bride. Their headpieces were chapel caps of yellow tulle edged in yellow lace and topped with a large starlet of brocade centered with a tiny yellow velvet bow. They carried bouquets of yellow and white roses and tiny pink forget-me-nots with long yellow and white satin ribbon streamers.

Following the ceremony a reception and supper was held at the Frenstat Recreation Center. A dance followed at night with music by the Houston City Polka Boys.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Caldwell High School and was recently employed by Goodnight Memorial Hospital. The groom is a 1968 graduate of Cameron High School and a 1970 graduate of Temple Junior College and attended Texas A&M University. He is employed by Safeway Stores in Killeen where the couple have made their home.

Progression Is DKG Panel Topic

Miss Bertha Pendergrass was leader for the program on "Changing Roles of Women" for Beta Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, Saturday, November 6, at 9:30 a.m., at Spring Lake Club. The subject of the panel was "Pride in Progression"; and the speakers showed women's advancement in art, literature, and music. Miss Pendergrass introduced the subject by showing recent articles in magazines and newspapers of women assuming important positions formerly held only by men.

Mrs. Olive Willie discussed the sixteen historic panels hanging in McClenahan County Courthouse in Waco. Painted by Mrs. Carlton Smith, they show Waco from its beginning as an Indian Village to its present status as a modern city.

Mrs. Beth Allen discussed women's roles in literature, both as characters in narratives and as authors. In the earliest English poem Beowulf, the only woman character was the Queen, gracious, meek, and lovely, and completely subjected to her husband. Chaucer had only two women in his "Prologue" to the CANTERBURY TALES - the nun and the wife of Bath. Nowadays, women fare better in books; and many women are gaining recognition as authors of best sellers.

Mrs. Geraldine Reeves related the progress of women as composers in the musical world. She played on the piano two songs "Texas" and "That's Texas," written and composed in our time by women educators Dr. Lena Milam and Mrs. Eloise Milam. Dr. Lena Milam wrote "Texas" in collaboration with Mrs. Aline Michaelis, and entered it in the contest for the Texas state song. Dr. Milam was superintendent of music for the Beaumont Independent School District at the time.

The meeting opened with the singing of the Delta Kappa Gamma song, with the words by Annie Webb Blanton and Cora M. Martin, founders of the organization, and the music by Lillian Mohr Fox. Mrs. Barbara Hudson led the assembly singing, with Mrs. Mary Frances Glass as accompanist.

Mrs. Geneva Hughes was in charge of a business session immediately after the program. She announced that Alpha State Convention meets in June 1972 at the Fort Worth Sheraton Hotel in Fort Worth, at which time, plans will be finalized for the International Convention of Delta Kappa Gamma to be held at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston, July 31 - August 6, 1972. Mrs. Hughes appointed a committee to plan what Beta Nu can do to help make the International Convention a success. These plans will be discussed along with those from other Texas chapters at the State Convention. Members of the committee are Miss Bertha Pendergrass of Rosebud, chairman, Mrs. Georgia Dyer of Rockdale, Mrs. Lillian Romaine of Lott, and Mrs. Frances Hensley of Cameron.

FRANCIS CHURCH

Church, Kirk Join Maysfield Faculty

Two new additions to the Maysfield School faculty have been announced by Max McClaren, county school superintendent. They are Francis Church and Wayne Kirk.

Church is teaching language arts, social studies, and math to the grades 6, 7 and 8. He is from Killen and recently retired after 20 years service with the United States government.

He received his masters degree from Maryland University and is now attending night school at Mary Hardin-Baylor College. He will move his family to this area as soon as housing is available.

Kirk, a Yoe High graduate, is working under the Title I program as physical education teacher for junior high school boys and girls.

The enrollment at Maysfield School is 43.

Direct Dial Offered To Mexico City

DALLAS

Southwestern Bell customers in Texas are now able to dial calls direct to Mexico City.

"The new service promises new speed and convenience for many customers," said H. D. Schodde, vice president of Southwestern Bell operations in the state. "Texans place an average of 9,000 calls to Mexico every business day."

"To reach a seven-digit number in Mexico City, just dial 1, plus 905, plus the seven-digit telephone number."

"To place calls to eight-digit numbers in Mexico City," Schodde continued, "all the customer has to do is dial 1, plus 90, plus the eight-digit number. That's all there is to it."

Schodde said dialing direct to Mexico City would be similar to dialing station-to-station calls to points in the United States. "Both seven and eight-digit telephone numbers in Mexico City may be called from any phone with 1 plus (Direct Distance Dialing) capabilities," Schodde explained.

DREAMS ARE THE DAWN OF TOMORROW

And like the first light of a new day they seem distant, unreal. Yet out of our dreams we often fashion tomorrow.

The dreams of the daylight hours are not in the subconscious. Rather they project our hopes on a screen of reality. They grow into goals and aims and ambitions.

Whether tomorrow will fulfill those dreams depends on certain values which must be acquired today. Ideals, standards, moral principles, religious faith—these inspire dreams worth dreaming, and help us to translate them to reality.

Never worry about your daughter's daydreaming. Be concerned about her opportunities for spiritual development. The Church shares that concern. It can help you do something constructive about it.

Leisure Time On Increase

Leisure time totaling about 50 hours a year. That's the amount workers have gained since 1960, reports
Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

The information results from a U.S. Labor Department study, she explains.

On the average, about 30 hours come from shorter work-weeks, 15 hours from added vacation time and 4 hours from increased holidays.

Vacations have increased from an average 1.8 weeks in 1960 for full-time employees to about 2.2 weeks in 1969, Mrs. Myers continues. And by May 1970, the average work week had declined from 41.5 hours to 39.6 hours.

Labor Department researchers also found the trend toward more overtime work, along with moonlighting, limited use of leisure time. Workers now prefer their leisure in lumps-- longer periods at time-- rather than piecemeal bits of extra time added to each day.

YOE ROYALTY - Teresa Schulz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Krenek and Ned McElwath, son of Mrs. Carroll McElwath, represented the Yoe High School senior class at Blinn Junior College homecoming activities last weekend. Yoe's Duke and Duchess were honored at a tea Saturday afternoon and later presented during half-time at the Blinn College football game. A dance that night also honored the representatives from 15 area high schools.
